

ANTHEM PRESS
LONDON • NEW YORK • DELHI

Anthem Studies in Problems of Anti-Colonialism

An Anthem Press Series

Anthem Studies in Problems of Anti-Colonialism is intended to provide a space for critical responses to research that has adopted an anti-colonial, decolonizing, or post-colonial perspective. These perspectives have dominated scholarship on both historical and contemporary issues over the last half century. This book series seeks to provide a forum for critiques of these perspectives and the development of new research that provides conceptual clarity and empirical validation of alternative approaches. It embraces contributions in fields as wide as history, area studies, international relations, political science, social science methods, public policy, comparative development, economics, education, culture, communications, sociology, anthropology, ethics, moral philosophy, and theology. By raising questions about the normative and empirical validity of anti-colonial perspectives, the series seeks to stimulate debate and offer new solutions to pressing global problems.

Follow this series on Twitter and on the series website.

Series Editors

Bruce Gilley – Portland State University, USA
Eric Louw – University of Queensland, Australia

Editorial Board

John Bonnett – Brock University, Canada
L. Brad Faught – Tyndale University, Canada
Fouad Mami – University of Adrar, Algeria
Wanjiru Njoya – University of Exeter, UK
Greg Simons – Uppsala University, Sweden
Tripurdaman Singh – Institute of Commonwealth Studies, UK
Robert Tombs – University of Cambridge, UK
Elizabeth Weiss – San Jose State University, USA
Richard Whatmore – University of St. Andrews, UK

PROPOSALS

Anthem Press welcomes submissions of proposals for challenging and original works from emerging and established scholars that meet the criteria of our series. We make prompt editorial decisions. Our titles are published in print and e-book editions and are subject to peer review by recognized authorities in the field. Should you wish to send in a proposal for a monograph (mid-length and full-length), edited collection, handbook or companion, reference or course book, please contact us at: proposal@anthempres.com.

Strongly international and interdisciplinary in focus, Anthem Press is a leading independent academic and trade publisher in established and emerging Social Sciences, Business and Humanities fields of study. Headquartered in London (UK) with sales and distribution outlets in the USA, UK, Australia and India, Anthem Press is an imprint of Wimbledon Publishing Company.

75–76 Blackfriars Rd. | London SE1 8HA | UK | T: +442071937371
244 Madison Ave. #116 | New York | NY 10016 | USA | T: +16467367908
info@anthempres.com | www.anthempres.com